Whereas a USC-administered student survey conducted during the 2024–2025 academic year demonstrated approximately 95% support for divestment from companies involved in weapons manufacturing and for stronger ethical investment practices;

Whereas the 2024–2025 USC passed a motion to advocate to Western University to incorporate human rights considerations and divestment from weapons manufacturers into its investment policy;

Whereas the Faculties of Science, Social Science, Music, Arts and Humanities, and Health Sciences, as well as Huron and King's have passed parallel motions advocating for the adoption of human rights considerations;
